PROFILE

As a proud father of three amazing kids, I've been attending the DigitalCrafts Web Development bootcamp for the past five months. It's been an incredible journey of learning and growth. I've had the opportunity to work on real-world projects, diving into HTML, CSS, JavaScript, ReactJS, React Redux, and Node.js. Now, I can't contain my excitement because I genuinely believe I'm ready to enter the web development industry. I've developed a strong skill set and gained hands-on experience, and I'm eager to contribute and make my mark in this field and my make kids and my family proud.
